

IHS Hearing Test Recommendation

People should get their hearing tested at least every three years.

People regularly exposed to noise should have an annual hearing test.

People who notice a change in their hearing or develop tinnitus should have their hearing checked as soon as possible.

Current hearing aid wearers should have an annual hearing test.

IHS © 2/28/2017